CAB KITS

COMPATIBILITY

In our offer you can find more than 150 types and modifications of cabs for different forklift brands. We verify suitability of a particular type of cab for your particular forklift on the basis of your specification of brand, model series and year of production. The customers may order the entire heated cab in a selected design in terms of material and technical design according to our current offer, half-cab or only individual components. Cabs can also be customized to meet specific needs.

PACKAGING AND DELIVERY

The cabs are delivered around the world in cost saving, environmentally friendly and safe packaging. Our sales department is ready to help you with transport and customs clearance too. Every package includes spare parts catalogue and detailed assembly instructions.

TRANSPORT AND ASSEMBLY

A cab can be delivered to the destination for installation by our staff, or just in a shipping box with instructions for self-assembly. The cabs are delivered in panels and their parts are directly pre-assembled from our production. This ensures not only quick assembly on the machine but also the completeness of equipment and accessories in accordance with customer's order.

QUALITY

The cabs combine the durability of design, the use of quality materials and high utility features with good price and delivery terms. Certifications of key parts, declarations of compatibility and production according to ISO standards are our norm.
